SCHOOLMAMS AND POLITICS

Long Island Teachers Reduced in Position and Compensation.

Their Loyalty to Ex-Mayor Gleason Cited as the Cause.

LONG ISLAND CITY, L. I., July 13.—There is considerable comment in this city in school circles over the refusal of the Board of Education to reappoint Miss Kate H. McWilliams as principal of the Second Ward Primary School. Miss McWilliams was principal of a school in this city from 1882 to 1892. She is a sister of ex-School Commissioner James McWilliams, who held office under ex-Mayor Gleason.

Miss McWilliams was formerly principal of the Grammar School of the Second Ward, and it is alleged that, without reason, she was removed as principal of the Grammar School and placed in a primary school, and at the same time her salary was reduced from $25 to $750 per year.

Commissioner Kennedy says Miss McWilliams was removed from the school by Miss McWilliams's friends, who say she has a State school license to teach and also a principal's license from Long Island City. The reason given is that she was not reappointed was because her brother was a Gleason man.

Another case where politics is alleged to have influenced the action of the Board of Education is that of Miss Monica Ryan. When Mayor Sanford came into office she was receiving $800 a month. On Wednesday night Miss Ryan's friends went before the Board and tried to get her salary raised to $1,000. They were refused.

It is alleged that the reason Miss Ryan's salary was cut was because she was a warm friend of ex-Mayor Gleason.
